JV Wraps Up Season By Haley Miller

The JV Lady Bulldogs fought hard against the Trego Eagles during their last volleyball game of the season at home on October 13. This was their first time playing the Eagles this year. The Bulldogs lost the first set 14-25. "Communication and adapting to our surroundings were a few of our problems during this set," said senior Brianna Stoll.

The girls adjusted to their surroundings and made the necessary improvements needed. In the second set the Lady Bulldogs fell to the Trego Eagles 22-25. "We played better and got used to playing with each other," said Freshman Amanda Cheney.

The JV girls finished their season with three wins and three losses. "I thought as a freshman playing JV we played hard this season," added Cheney. "I'm really excited to see what the next season brings."
