

Cheney Selected November Student of the Month By Judy Rogers

Amanda Cheney has been selected as the Golden Plains High School Student of the Month for November. Amanda, a sophomore at GPHS, is a talented student in many areas. She has been on the superintendent honor roll throughout high school. She has been the class president for two years, is a member of the yearbook staff, and is a state qualifier with the flute trio.

Amanda also participates in athletics including volleyball, basketball, and cheerleading. In addition to her school activities, she is a senior girl scout member. Her scout group was responsible for the fundraising and renovations of the Selden ball field last year. She is also a member of the Teens for Christ youth group in Rexford.

“I was surprised to be selected,” said Cheney. “We have so many excellent students that it is an honor to be recognized.” Amanda is the daughter of Matt and Lyn Cheney of Rexford.
