

Three Compete at Norton
By McKinzie Horobik

Three from the Golden Plains Forensics team traveled to Norton on February 3. Janessa Leija, a new competitor, did a prose piece called “Adventures in Sloth.” McKinzie Horobik read her poetry piece “I Don’t Want to be Crazy” and Wyatt Amlong competed in Exempt. He broke finals and placed third at the meet.

“It was a tough meet,” said Coach Robynn Wessel. “We saw teams we don’t usually see.” The team will head to the Northern Valley Meet on February 10.
